

IRENE NAMAGANDA

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Irene is a highly accomplished and creative professional with 17 years of experience in leadership, communication, and community development. As the Executive Director of EASE Uganda since 2015, she has overseen strategic planning, program execution, and resource mobilization to ensure the organization's financial and operational success. With extensive experience in managing projects, empowering communities, and fostering collaboration, Irene has successfully driven initiatives like the Kampala TB AIR Project and women's economic empowerment programs, leaving a lasting impact on countless lives.

Passionate about environmental sustainability, Irene has consistently integrated eco-friendly practices into her work, promoting awareness and action for a greener future. Her dedication to environmental conservation is complemented by her leadership roles at BeadForLife and Street Business School where she championed health, girl child education, adult literacy, and organic certification programs. Committed to empowering communities and preserving the environment, Irene continues to inspire change through her entrepreneurial spirit, strategic vision, and unwavering advocacy for a sustainable world.
