

MICHAEL BULUMA

Michael is a dedicated professional with a diploma in Business Administration specializing in Accounting and Finance. Currently advancing his career through the pursuit of a Certified Public Accountant qualification, Michael brings a wealth of expertise to financial management and economic development. His deep passion for nature inspires him to go beyond his professional scope, actively engaging in initiatives that blend environmental conservation with economic empowerment. Michael is committed to creating sustainable solutions that positively impact communities and the planet.